Bon Voyage, Mr. Fred

THE MEN AND WOMEN manning the Sierra Madre News this week bid a temporary goodbye, fondly so, and bon voyage, hopefully so, to a very dear old friend.

Once in a blue moon we encounter a man who earns—and retains—without question and sans reproach, the universal respect, admiration and indeed, the love and affection of those with whom he works, also those with whom he associates in any endeavor.

Such a man is Frederick Hawkins, plant superintendent of the Sierra Madre News these 11 years, come next June. Now, Fred as we all call him affectionately, and Mrs. Hawkins, are returning to their native England for a visit in their old-home city of Birmingham, center of England's steel industry.

WE KNOW that he and Mrs. Hawkins have long looked forward to this vacation in their home land, yet we have hoped to dissuade him in this purpose at this particular time—he has been a splendid workman and an excellent citizen, a man of unexcelled steadfastness and a strong right arm to this publisher in the initial days of his editorship and publishing here.

But in lieu of this and with the knowledge that such a vacation is desirable, we can only resort to Shakespeare in describing Fred as "a fellow of plain and uncoined constancy."

This is what is in the heart of all of us at the News office as we say bon voyage to Fred and Mrs. Hawkins. Here we borrow a little saying from the Italian which reads that "good company in a journey makes the way seem shorter." We hope that Fred's memories of us will be the good thoughts from us that will accompany him overseas. And may the distance between us, in the future, seem the shorter.

'Sierra Madre' Race Proves Real Thriller

Sierra Madre racing enthusiasts yesterday had their gala day at famed Santa Anita track, with festivities aplenty and a special race, the sixth on an exciting card named "The Sierra Madre" by the Los Angeles Turf Club in honor of this "Foothill City of Livability."

The $5,000 "Sierra Madre," run just before the day's $20,000 "C. J. Fitzgerald" Cap" on the grass, was at 1-1/8 miles for 4-year-olds and upward, optional claiming at $12,500 or more, brought out a splendid field and produced a thrilling race.

WITH SIERRA MADREANS escorted in a special reservation in the Club House area, John H. Curtis, the latter president of the Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices the event was successfully conducted, and Mrs. Curtis, and City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington and Mrs. Bevington were ushered into the winner's circle to crown the winner of "The Sierra Madre."

Members of City Council, other notables and a throng of racing lovers from this city were in the Club House for the afternoon. Don S. Doig, director of tours and special events for the Los Angeles Turf Club, was in charge of the affair.

Yesterday's Sierra Madre Day was a fitting prelude to an exciting week of racing at the Santa Anita oval, culminating this Saturday in the 23rd running of the celebrated "Big Cap."

Patrolman Badly Bitten By Prisoner

It has been "Personal Injury Week" for members of the Sierra Madre Police Department.

While being booked an irate 20-year-old prisoner, nabbed for drunk driving, bit Patrolman Stanley G. Baney so severely that the bone of the small finger on one hand was broken and the finger lacerated so severely that he had to be treated at Sierra Madre Hospital.

The day before Patrolman L. E. Wilburne suffered a severely bruised index finger of the left hand while putting a drunk into a jail cell. The door latch suddenly clamped down on the finger, the injury necessitating medication.

As a result of Patrolman Baney's injuries, Phillip Patrick Hayes, 655 Edgeview, Sierra Madre, will answer charges of mayhem on Thursday in Municipal Court in Pasadena.

The police report cites that while being booked he suddenly threw a chair at Patrolman Baney, following this with the biting incident. Patrolman Baney will be absent from duty a few days while the finger heals and the danger from infection passes.

School Children, in Contest, Receive Seeds Saturday

This is the Saturday when the throng of Sierra Madre school children receive their free seeds and instructions on how to grow their vegetables in the Kiwanis Club's "King of the Crops" and "Queen of the Crops" contest.

This will be at the Osti Landscape Nursery, 320 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., on Saturday morning, starting at 9 o'clock. Upon presentation of their "Acknowledgment Cards" school children from the public and private schools of the city will receive free all seeds and plants necessary for growing their crops, also information on how to plant and care for them.

PRIZES offered by Sierra Madre merchants in this unique contest which is attracting attention in other Kiwanis clubs throughout the state, are growing in number. As of today, they include the following:

- From Arnold's Hardware—cotton's mitt and tennis racket.
- From Byron Hopper—two cameras.
- From Youngland—Sweater set (two).
- From Royal Drugs—Two fountain pens (not ball point).

Mrs. Toll Stresses Individual's Duties

The responsibility of the individual in his relation to other Americans was stressed at Tuesday noon's Kiwanis Club meeting in Woman's Clubhouse by Mrs. Maynard J. Toll, prominent Los Angeles civic leader, in her Brotherhood Week address.

Mrs. Toll, a magnetic speaker, is a member of the Board of Directors of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and Brotherhood Week chairman for community organizations in the Southern California area this year.

City Administrator Larry Bevington presided at the meeting, with Robert H. Green as chairman of the day.

Among those present to hear Mrs. Toll were the Rev. George W. Lindsay, pastor of the Congregational Church and president of the Sierra Madre Ministerial Association; Rabbi Charles W. Steckel of the Foothill Jewish Community Center, Temple Beth Israel; the Rev. Thomas O'Malley, pastor of St. Rita's Catholic Church, and others, providing a representative audience of Protestants, Catholics and Jews.

The meeting is open to the public.

Raid Siren Test Due This Friday

The Sierra Madre office of Civil Defense will hold its monthly Air Raid Siren Test this Friday at 10 a.m. The test will be as follows:

THE ALERT SIGNAL—A steady blast of three to five minutes' duration (one minute during test).

THE TAKE COVER SIGNAL—A wailing tone or series of short blasts of three minutes' duration (one minute during test). Tests are held on the last Friday of each month.

INCIDENTALLY, Rabbi Steckel and the Rev. Mr. Lindsay will exchange pulpits this week, each treating of Brotherhood Week phases.

Mrs. Toll, mother of five children, a native of Long Beach, and noted for her work in more than a dozen philanthropic organizations, including the Episcopal Mission Society, spoke of the necessity of a person's relations with their fellowmen.

"It's what you do personally," she declared emphatically.

Coordinating Unit to Hear Mrs. Lydick

Mrs. Lawrence Lydick of Sierra Madre, member of the Arcadia Assistance League will be the principal speaker at the March 1 meeting of Coordinating Council, at 8 p.m. in the School District Office.

Mrs. Lydick was one of the original members of the League's Golden Age Club project and will explain how a philanthropic organization solved the problem of the senior citizens.

The Golden Age Clubhouse recently opened in Arcadia. There will also be a discussion of how Sierra Madre can possibly help our Senior Citizens in a similar way.

MRS. CARL CHEADLE, council president said: "Since there is a high proportion of elder citizens in Sierra Madre, their problems are community problems, and as such are of vital concern to Sierra Madreans. Coordinating Council urges active interest on the part of all its citizens."

The meeting is open to the public.

City Chooses Band Director

The Sierra Madre Recreation Department, Dave Sommers, director, announces that Ross Davis has been named to fill the position of band director, vacated by Walter Laursen last month.

Davis has been the director of Azusa High School Concert and Marching Bands for four years and directs the City of Azusa Community Band.

Davis has a broad background of music, graduating from Ohio University at Athens and gaining his Master's Degree at the University of Indiana. He has taught music in Iowa, Indiana and California, and also conducted the City of Elkhart's Municipal Band in Indiana.

Davis announces rehearsals are continuing at Sierra Mesa School every Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Membership is open in several sections of the band and interested parties should contact the Recreation Department.

A spring concert is planned for April, along with the usual summer sessions.

Space-Research Setup to Add 200 More Employees in 2 Years

H. L. Daulton, president and chairman of the board of Sierra Engineering Co., made public Wednesday company plans to construct a new building at 111 East Montecito Ave., Sierra Madre, and to enlarge their present facilities at 123 East Montecito Ave., at an expenditure of $250,000.

The new engineering and manufacturing building of 18,000 square feet will contain the latest test equipment for evaluation of the company's research work on oxygen breathing, anesthesia, prosthetics, and medical-surgical equipment.

Mr. Daulton explained that when all work is completed, the company will have 60,000 square feet of manufacturing, engineering, and administration buildings available for its operations, and future expansion into the missile field.

The company employs more than 200 employees from the local area, and sparks the local economy with an annual payroll in excess of $1,000,000. The additions will mean 200 more employees within two years. The company has become the leader in supplying personal high-altitude oxygen equipment and anesthesia accessories all over the world.

THEY ARE currently supplying the bulk of personal oxygen masks and related equipment for crew and passengers of the Boeing 707, Douglas DC-8, and Convair 440 jet airliners.

The personal passenger mask demonstrated to patrons prior to any flight in a jet is the product of Sierra Engineering Co. The crew of the same plane is also outfitted with Sierra crew oxygen masks.

This is also the home of "Sierra Sam," the internationally famous dummy who stands in for humans in grueling tests in order that people may ride and fly more safely.

The life-saving tracheotomy (a device for establishing an emergency airway into the throat) is a product of Sierra research in cooperation with the Huntington Memorial Institute of Medical Research.

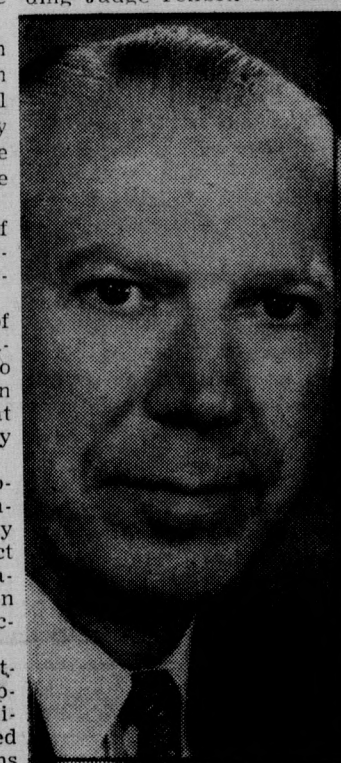

The firm recently completed work on oxygen equipment for use in putting animals into space. Continued research in space problems will insure a Sierra flying suit for your first ride into space.

FOR DIVER diversification, the firm has several hardware lines and a brother corporation, Sierra Precision, Inc. of Monrovia. Sierra Precision, Inc. manufactures miniature mechanical chain for motion transfer, and markets swiveling ball casters seen in increasing numbers on fine furniture, television sets, and office chairs.

Toyon Property Owners' Battle Against Subdividing To Come Up Again Mar. 17

The second round in the battle between the heads of some 20 families occupying substantial homes in the Toyon Rd. section of the old Lewis property in Sierra Madre, and the Prescott Building Company, 3827 E. Colorado, Pasadena, who propose to subdivide a large section of the wooded area into 21 lots, will be fought out before the Sierra Madre Planning Commission on Thursday, March 17. After that the fight probably will be transferred to City Council for final determination.

The first round at the commission's regular meeting last Thursday, was marked by a large turnout of the now of the former. Council rejected the request, making it plain that the dam must be completed before the end of the year.

Treasurer Hawkins Has Opposition In Election

City Treasurer W. Murray Hawkins, now vacationing in Europe, will have opposition at the April 12 Municipal Election.

He is Paul F. Landwehr of 260 W. Carter, who filed his nomination papers at City Hall last Wednesday. Landwehr is a contract specialist whose nominating petitions were circulated by Mrs. Estelle M. Drobek of 612 N. Auburn, frequently a critic of the present city administration.

No candidates have filed to oppose Mayor W. Webster Vannier, City Clerk L. Marie Warfel and Councilman Severin L. Sorensen who seek reelection.

POINTS MADE at the Planning Commission meeting by opponents of the subdivision were:

- 1—Too many lots for a hillside development.
- 2—Elevations between lots extremely large—some ten feet, some 16 feet, and one as high as 21 feet, without any retaining walls.
- 3—Lower Toyon Rd. endangered by floods during rainy season because subdividers' plans show all drainage flowing into street. Grand View residents also endangered.
- 4—Serious health hazard where septic tanks would be properly located below the ground and still be above the level of the adjacent lower lots, which may cause seepage and leaching into lower areas.
- 5—Deep cutting away of land right to edge of private road, with no provision for protecting the road against undermining, cars rolling

A. Ronald Button Should Be Made State Chairman

California Republicans should immediately disabuse themselves of any idea that Vice President Richard M. Nixon, if nominated as now appears likely, is a shoo-in to be elected President next November. He isn't.

They can, and should, realize the formidable, hard-slogging task the party faces in order to make Nixon the first Californian to reside in the White House.

Going further, they should remove the cobwebs from their eyes and see clearly and realistically that only through the keenest political preception, thorough and efficient organization, and the willingness to "get in there and slug" can Nixon carry his own home state of California.

THERE ARE these manifold and valid reasons for such contentions:

1—California is no longer a Republican state, for the Democrats have a decisive majority in party registration.
2—The Democrats, with Pat Brown as their leader, and such men as Ed Pauley, Laurence Harvey, et al, providing the principal financial direction, and with the astute Paul Ziffren affording pertinent counsel, are efficiently and politically-wise organized. The party has a working unit in every one of California's 26,000 precincts.

3—The Republican Party in California is still badly split; the 1958 chism is not yet healed despite surface indications of such. The Knowland "Spring Street Boys" clique which was solely responsible for the Republican debacle some 17 months ago, is still in the saddle, especially in Southern California, and its only supporters are the smaller groups, actuated by personal ends and self-aggrandizement. To date no new and vigorous leadership in which the voters can impose confidence and which they demand, has been manifest.

4—The Republicans are not organized, do not have a vigorous, hard-hitting state chairman with the political savvy and know-how and the ability and willingness to combat intelligently—and constantly—efforts of the powerful Democratic organization with its highly organized press corps. Some of Chairman Milias' efforts—or lack of them—are at times genuinely laughable and pitiful in their ineffectiveness.

FOR INSTANCE, some months ago, in an occasional burst of apparent energy which wasn't long-lived, Milias hired Cliff Mosher, political editor of the San Francisco Examiner and a wise cookie politically, as his state press agent for the Republicans.

Mosher knows the value of socking back immediately when political opponents advance some claim in public speeches, press pronouncement or legislative debate. By this is meant slapping back the same day or the next at the latest, keeping your political foes off balance. Also that a constant flow of copy (political news and views) is necessary to help win elections.

But in some three months, Mosher, becoming tired and tucked out with the Republican state chairman's amiably futile efforts and his disinclination to get on the ball, resigned and went back to newspapering in San Francisco.

NIXON HIMSELF faces a possible Donnybrook in Los Angeles County. In the 16th Congressional District two widely known Republicans seek the nomination for Congress. They are Alphonse E. Bell Jr., chairman of the Los Angeles Republican Central Committee, and staunch Nixonite, and Murray M. Chotiner, brilliant Republican strategist and author of past Nixon campaign victories.

Chotiner was closely identified with the tough, slugging Nixon campaigns which raised the ire of the Democrats the country over but which were particularly effective. Then, his name became linked with an "influence-in-government" scandal—as an attorney he is said to have defended clients of questionable character. He was virtually purged, became a political anathema to party leaders, especially those close to Nixon.

Now, after some years on the sidelines, Chotiner is back in political harness and is out after the seat in Congress which Rep. Donald A. Jackson is vacating.

Coupled with the increased Democratic registration, the nomination of Chotiner could conceivably create such an unfavorable political rumpus that Nixon might lose California in November.

THESE ARE elements which the Republicans in California must face realistically.

The prime answer is organization, a willingness to work hard and diligently, and a new, more vigorous and politically-wise leadership, one capable of welding its discordant elements into a working, unified entity.

This newspaper believes that former State Treasurer A. Ronald Button is the man who can lead California Republicans out of the "political wilderness." He should be the new Republican state chairman.

C. of C. and Its Work

There are institutions in any city which are part of its bone and sinew, contributing in a steadily quiet manner to the community's progress, safety and convenience.

Such an organization is the Chamber of Commerce, and nowhere is this more true than in Sierra Madre where this group of progressive and civic-minded citizens efficiently, and without noisy fanfare, strive in many ways to make this a better city in which to live. Sometimes their efforts elicit little thanks from residents who in reality should be more thankful for their endeavors.

CONSEQUENTLY, the forthcoming installation dinner of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce next Monday night at the Woman's Clubhouse assumes more than routine significance. It is no ordinary occasion, rather one that marks a civic milestone in our community. As such it should result in an overflow attendance. It also should serve to reawaken interest of every Sierra Madrean in this enterprising organization.

41 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Feb. 28, 1919—A delightful party was given by the Eighth Grade last Thursday in the Kindergarten. The honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walker, Miss Vaughn, Miss Prikyrl, Miss Powell, Miss Appleby, Miss Chrisney and Mrs. Alf.

The first meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association was held in the Kindergarten Building on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 26, Mrs. J. N. Hawks called the meeting to order at 3:15 and after the transaction of formal business and collection of dues, called upon Mr. Walker for a few words of welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. John Borgerding entertained the following old Minnesota friends Monday: Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Hilbert, Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Strong of Glendale, and Casper Scholler of Los Angeles.

19 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Feb. 27, 1941—Mrs. Edward Stewart of 177 Lowell spent last week in Death Valley with a party of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester K. Layton of 291 E. Sierra Madre Blvd. had as their weekend guests Mrs. Ana Smith and daughter, Shirley, of San Francisco.

Sam Graham, Donald Tarr and Bill Schwartz took a weekend trip to the All-American Canal. They crossed the Arizona border near Yuma.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Rutledge of 126 E. Mira Monte returned Friday from a week's trip to Vallejo where they visited their daughter, Mrs. LeRoy A. Quackenbush. They also called on friends in San Francisco and Oakland.

11 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Feb. 24, 1949—Col. Walter D. Thurber was made president of the Sons of the American Revolution, Pasadena Chapter of the California Society, at the Tuesday night meeting. Col. Thurber has been an active member of the S.A.R. all his life. He served four years on the governing board of the Maine Society before the family moved to California.

Cold weather will delay the opening of the annual Wistaria Fete by almost two weeks. This was announced by Lorne Pratt, Fete director. He said the wistaria vine, which attracts thousands of visitors each year, will blossom two weeks later than usual.

A pre-Lenten dance has been planned for the young people and teenagers at Ascension Parish House Saturday night, Feb. 26, from 8 to 12. Don Nichols is the general chairman.

5 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Feb. 24, 1955—The Mt. Wilson District Boy Scout membership enrollment campaign will start immediately, according to Thomas M. Schwartz, chairman of the drive. The $3,000 which the workers hope to achieve, will be used to maintain the Boy Scout pro-

Disc jockeys who took what looks like payola to the rest of us plead that they were merely being paid for listening. Judging by some of the records played, with the inference that they were among the top tunes, it was the suffering public which should have been paid for listening.

THIS BEING leap year, we get an extra day this month. But for some of the gals who leap the years backward, every year seems to be leap year.

THE PRESIDENT is convinced he knows more about military matters than nearly anyone else does, but apparently he doesn't know how to pronounce all of them. In his televised comments just after he visited Camp Canaveral he pronounced "nuclear" four times as if it was spelled "nuclear." That was sort of comforting to all the rest of us who make mistakes. For one, I'm not dead sure just how to spell "Canaveral."

WE COULD really get somewhere this year if the congressmen and candidates were as eager to defend civil rights as they are to indulge their own uncivil rights to make political assertions.

THE HEARTS of all of us go out to John and Betty Conzelman in the tragic loss of their daughter, Sierra Madre, thank heaven still is not too big a city really to feel kinship in loss when tragedy strikes a family all of us have learned to respect for good citizenship and admire for the undaunted spirit

Super-Red Seeks U.S. Overthrow

By Edgar W. Hiestand
Rep., 21st Dist. Calif.

The 17th National Convention of the Communist Party of America was opened to the strains of the Star Spangled Banner, while the Stars and Stripes waved on high all over the auditorium. What patriotism! And according to the best authority of all, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, the Commie conspirators emerged from this convention stronger, more unified, and more of a menace to our republic than ever before.

The convention to which I refer was held, not 15 years ago when Americans in high places talked of "Good Old Joe" Stalin. It wasn't ten years ago, in the days of the "red herring." It was just gram in the district during the present year.

Mrs. Wolfgang Vonrhein, 383 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., had a baby daughter Jan. 29 at St. Luke Hospital. One week later she reentered the same hospital for an appendectomy. Both mother and baby are doing nicely now.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Bush, 633 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., and their children, Candy, Smokey and Dottie, enjoyed a weekend at Crestline in the company of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Betten-court, 633 W. Sierra Madre, and their daughter, Janet.

with which they have borne their trials. We can only hope that the law of averages will now bring them many years of good fortune, for they have had their share of trials in recent years.

I STILL feel so close to Sierra Madre that it gives me a glow every time any Sierra Madrean wins distinction, so I have glowed several times lately because of evidences that Harrison Brown has twice been presented on television panels produced by Edward R. Murrell, as a logician and thinker of importance, and some leading editors and commentators are similarly impressed.

Everyone knows Ed Murrell can and does get many of the most distinguished persons in their fields on his programs and doesn't invite anyone he does not believe has something of national interest to say.

LONG-TIME readers of the Los Angeles Times are happy to see Ed Ainsworth back in the paper as a columnist. For years Ed's "El Camino Real" column was a bright feature of the Southern Counties page, and though he has done many notable things for The Times since then, he has a folksy, down-to-earth yet pleasing touch as a columnist which will make that page a must for thousands of readers.

Few other persons know Southern California as thoroughly and affectionately as Ed does, and he can tell us about it with understanding, sympathy and delightful good humor.

two months ago, December 10, 1959. Yet today many loyal Americans seem to think the Communist threat from within has lessened.

At that convention the American Commies selected as their leader the most ruthless, most militant, most obnoxious fanatic of their group; Gus Hall. (Note to Hall: If you don't like what I say of you, if you want to claim that I am overstating or lying or defaming your so-called character, please feel free to take action against me in the free United States Courts. I invite you.)

THE COMMUNIST conspiracy in America is headed by a man who has openly bragged that he is willing to try to overthrow our government by force of arms. Hall was convicted in 1934 and testified as follows at his trial:

Q. But you would prefer the Russian—you would prefer to be in Russia?
A. I prefer America with a Russian government.

Q. And you are willing to fight and overthrow this government?
A. Absolutely.

Q. And you are willing to take up arms and overthrow the constituted authorities?
A. When the time comes, Yes.

Following his smashing victory at the 17th National Convention, Hall was inter-

The bird got away, naturally, flew to the highest rafter and refused to budge. Finally, the child's mother was summoned and she arrived bearing her husband's old vaulting pole with which she gently roogied the bird till he fluttered down to captivity, and peace was restored to the classroom.

HENRY NEUTZEL, commercial pilot and former Council member, has his head swathed in bandages and is home tending 22 stitches in his skull—resulting from an automobile accident, last week.

Seems Henry was turning east onto Foothill Blvd. (from the Sears lot) and was smacked in the rear by a west-bound bakery truck. Luckily, he saw the truck just in time to step on the gas to avoid being hit broadside. His wife, Barbara, who was working in the nearby bank, was notified and accompanied the ambulance which rushed Henry to St. Luke's.

THE ROYAL birth did not go unnoticed by one local six-year-old girl—and she promptly dispatched a congratulatory crayon drawing to Buckingham Palace.

Charlton Flats, of Peaceful Grandeur

By Bill Work

Charlton Flats is a favorite among the mountain folks of our day, only ten airline miles from Sierra Madre and the start of the original trail. This high mountain valley, with its beautifully forested rolling slopes, has a friendliness of its own, a lazy summer atmosphere not found in the rugged back country.

To our mountain pioneers it was known as Pine Flats, the second step from Barley on their trek through the mountains. The name was later changed to Charlton in honor of R. H. Charlton, early Angeles supervisor, who devoted his life to development and protection of our forest.

THE ORIGINAL trail from the West Fork ran through Barley Flats and was laid out by two colorful mountaineers who lived for a time in our Little Santa Anita—Jim Atkins and George Islip. They planted the orchard at Orchard Camp. Islip ran the first commercial pack train over our Mt. Wilson Trail. A mountain above Crystal Lake now bears his name.

Later the more direct Short Cut trail was built by John Hartwell and two widely known Sierra Madreans, Arthur Carter and Louie Newcomb. From their trail the canyon took its name.

The first ranger on the flat worked in the summer only and lived in a tent. In 1902, the Forest Service decided to build a cabin and Louie Newcomb, Jess Sevier, Will Bacon and Jack Slade, all of them Rangers, did the work. The cabin was small, eight by ten feet, with fireplace and loft for sleeping quarters in cold weather. Two springs, one near the cabin, furnished the water.

Here, in those pine covered hills, the deer, fox, coyote, mountain lion, bob cat, gray squirrel, quail and hawk—all the wildlife of the forest abound.

The second cabin on the Flat was built by a group of hunters in 1908. Among them were Ike and Tom Cooper of San Gabriel. Long before 1900 these two brothers, with their oversized burro "Natty," had wandered our tum-bled hills, and had many a story to tell. Natty's prowess as a pack animal became a legend of that day.

UNDER A STAR-LIT sky, campfires glowed as the hunters swapped their tales, many tragic and still remembered—of how "Lid" Winston perished in a blizzard near Buckhorn. Winston Ridge now bears his name; of the two boys who lost their lives in the snow, and now lie buried near the entrance to Loomis Ranch; of Fred Buchanan who was shot through the neck while hunting near the Flats.

His partner, leaving him more dead than alive, raced for Mt. Wilson and in less than 24 hours a doctor and nurse arrived.

"Buchanan Camp" was established and the wounded man nursed back to partial health after a three-month siege.

Four members of the National Guard, armed with heavy Kraggs, went hunting against the Rangers' advice. After several days they barely made it into a camp on Bear Canyon, near death from hunger and exhaustion.

THREE MEN reached the Flat in a snowstorm. Their animals were missing and the snow was four feet deep on the level. After five days one of their horses floundered into camp so hungry he ate old magazines. They blanketed him the first night, but in the morning the blanket was missing. He preferred its food value to its warmth.

Twelve days later the burros were found huddled under a tree. They had survived on snow and what branches they could reach, which only goes to prove that it takes more than a 12-day fast to kill a burro.

On Aug. 23, 1931, the City of Pasadena acquired the Flat on a special use permit and began the development of a recreational area. They were granted a two-year extension, but failing to complete their improvements, the land reverted back to the government in 1936.

WHERE ONCE this picturesque Flat was reached only after a hard 25-mile hike over winding trail from Sierra Madre, today hundreds of people glide over the Angeles Crest Highway to enjoy the Flat, its birds and animal life and its now peaceful, scenic grandeur.

1960 Prospects For the Republicans

By Robert G. Spivak
Washington

A REPUBLICAN analyzes his party—Senator Jacob K. Javits of New York recently has delivered a series of well-reasoned speeches along the Eastern seaboard that will undoubtedly be studied carefully by the Democrats and likely be ignored by his fellow-Republicans.

Javits was a Rockefeller man, who appears more or less resigned to seeing Vice President Richard M. Nixon head the Republican ticket next November. He does not seem overjoyed at this prospect. But the New York lawmaker is a loyal party man and one of the few who was able to get himself elected when the trend in his state and in his congressional district were Democratic.

What he says, therefore, carries more weight than might be the case with similar observations from a less successful candidate.

Unlike the polltakers and those Republicans who like to think Nixon's election is in November—but I do advocate hard-headed realism," Javits said in an address at Kingston, N.Y.

In New York, he went on, the party's chance of winning is good only if the national leaders can "convince New Yorkers that it is the modern element in our party which is predominant."

JAVITS, unfortunately, does not come to grips with the problem he poses except by some negative observations "I do not believe that Vice President Richard Nixon deserves to be identified as a conservative," he says.

He notes that the party is under the "closest scrutiny" it has experienced since 1948. Its programs are being examined as never before. What does the New Yorker think of these programs and ideas? "They must be modern," he insists.

"We must present candidates who will be representative of the best Lincolnian tradition and in tune with the times," he continues.

Where are they to be found? He does not say.

THE JAVITS' speeches are significant in many ways and worth close study by anyone interested in the future of American politics. But what they really add up to is his conclusion that the Republican Party is essentially a "one-man" party, that Eisenhower did not allow ideas or possible successors, except Nixon, to flourish.

I wonder if this could be the beginning of a new Rockefeller-for-President movement?

This is how one king (spotted Friday morning) did it: he first put the pants part way up the stilts, then he climbed a ladder, strapped on the stilts and pulled on his red silk pants the rest of the way. After that, he reached down for a long purple robe (which had conveniently been placed on the roof of his auto top), adjusted his crown and strode off majestically.

Ringworm of Scalp Should Be Treated Without Delay

By Roy O. Gilbert, M.D.
Los Angeles County Health Officer

Ringworm of the scalp is a troublesome and contagious skin disease occurring chiefly among school children, although cases occasionally do occur in pre-school children and adults. If untreated, or not given persistent treatment, the infection may last for many months or even years.

The disorder is caused by different species of vegetable parasites (fungi) that invade the outer layer of the scalp, hair follicle, and eventually the hair shaft itself. This is followed in about 10 to 14 days by one or more oval, grayish-white patches that appear on the scalp.

These patches are not visible under ordinary light but can be seen as fluorescent areas when the scalp is examined under a Wood's light (filtered ultraviolet rays) in a completely blacked-out room.

THE SCALP and hair may look normal to the untrained eye in early stages of the infection unless a Wood's light is used, but soon the hair in each patch becomes dull and lifeless and breaks off about 1/8-inch above the scalp. This is often the first noticeable sign that an abnormal condition exists. Lesions or lesions usually expand to about the size of a dollar and eventually the hair drops off, resulting in bald areas (alopecia).

Generally speaking, there are three types of ringworm that affect the scalp and each is caused by a different fungus. The least bothersome is caused by the fungus Microsporum lanosum. It is often referred to as the animal type of ringworm because it is spread chiefly by animal pets, particularly infected dogs and cats.

The two so-called human types prevalent in this area are caused by the fungi Microsporum audouini and Trichophyton tonsurans, and these forms of the disease are usually spread from person to person. Most adults and adolescents are resistant to Microsporum audouini infections. On the other hand, although children are more susceptible, all ages are subject to infection by the Trichophyton species.

LABORATORY examination is required to determine the type of fungus, and the duration of the infection is directly related to the particular type that is found. The animal type, for instance, has a usual duration of not more than three to four months, whereas the human types of the disorder persist for many months and even years. In 97 per cent of all cases, the regrowth of hair is normal after cure.

While ringworm of the scalp, particularly the human type, is contagious, it is not usually considered necessary to exclude an infected child from school.

Nevertheless, it is imperative that medical instructions be followed carefully both in regards to the prescribed treatment and to the preventive measures that must be employed to prevent spread of the disease. Otherwise the child may not be permitted to attend school and the period of infection may be unduly prolonged.

GRISOFULVIN, a new drug that is taken by mouth, is recently coming into use and gives promise of being more effective in the treatment of ringworm of the scalp than those medications now currently employed.

A pamphlet on ringworm, which includes a brief discussion of ringworm of the scalp, will be mailed to anyone who sends a card of request to the Division of Health Education, Los Angeles County Health Department, 241 N. Figueroa St., Los Angeles 12.

Lutherans Pointing Up Lenten Rites

Climaxing a week of great spiritual adventure in its New Life Mission, Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church is looking ahead to its family worship at 10 a.m. Sunday when the pastor, the Rev. Ray E. Hansen, will point up the coming Lenten season in his sermon, "The Why of Lent."

"In a few days we shall again be in the season of Lent," Pastor Hansen will say.

"This is our opportunity to give special and serious thought to the suffering and sacrifice of Christ for us. The reason for Lent? So that we may learn, as Christ's followers did, the deep significance of the things that are about to come to pass in the life of the Lord."

"Many have left Christ because they did not know or understand the meaning of His life, nor the purpose of His Cross. Shall we, too, leave Him? Or shall we now come to know Him as our personal Saviour?"

The choir, directed by Charles E. Markham, will offer the anthem, "When Morning Gilds the Skies" by Barnby, with Donald Chambers at the organ.

THE LENTEN season will open with Holy Communion being administered at the Ash Wednesday service at 8 p.m. March 2. The choir will sing "God So Loved the World," by Stainer.

Both confirmation classes will meet at 9 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 27, at the church, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., to continue studies on the second article of the Apostles' Creed and to view the film on "Redemption."

The New Life Mission concluded Wednesday evening.

Christian Science Topic Is 'Christ'

The Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday will speak of the sincere reverence of the Christian Scientists for the Master, Christ Jesus, and of the obligation of his followers to live the lives and do the works Jesus admonished them to do as evidence of salvation. The subject is "Christ Jesus."

John, the beloved disciple, records that Jesus "went up into the temple, and taught." Later Jesus declares, "My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me. If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself." And he says, "He that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him."

Sermon: "THE CHRISTIAN-JEWISH DIALOGUE"
Rabbi Steckel, Preaching

For hundreds of years the Christian Church has set aside the six weeks before Easter and has designated them "the Lenten season."

The purpose of this special season is to give Christians an opportunity to recall the consequences of sin and the assurance of redemption. It provides Christian churches with an opportunity to tell the unchurched residents of their communities of the central fact of the Christian faith—the death of the Son of God to atone for the sins of the world.

The message of Lent is to Christianity what a spring is to a watch, what a motor is to a car. Take the message of Christ's life and death out of the Christian religion and you have only a worthless shell.

The message of Lent is still the message of Paul: "Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures."

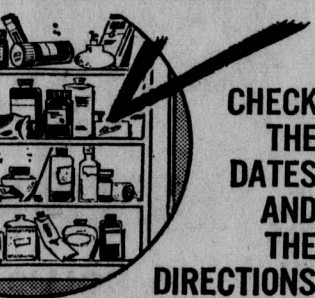

During these weeks thousands of churches throughout the nation are bringing this fundamental Bible fact into sharp focus. If you have not yet found forgiveness for your sins through faith in Christ, we extend a hearty invitation to you to attend our Lenten services.

Letter to the Editor

Editor, Sierra Madre News:

We, the neighboring property owners of the proposed Lewis Subdivision, have an important question with which we sincerely hope you can help us.

WHO IS THERE IN OUR CITY GOVERNMENT WHO CAN REPRESENT US, THE SIERRA MADRE CITIZENS OF LONG STANDING, AGAINST THE OUTRAGEOUS SUBDIVISION PLAN WHICH HAS BEEN SUBMITTED TO THE CITY PLANNING COMMISSION? How can this subdivider barge in here without consulting a single neighboring property owner and place us in a position of defending our own property rights, totally ignoring the fact that Toyon Rd. residents own the private road and only the families living thereon have the right of ingress and egress?

This outside subdivider is actually proposing 21 houses in a canyon of rugged terrain, composed of extremely high and low levels, with a 28-foot drop indicated for the north end. The floors of this canyon were a natural stream bed at one time.

Bordering the east of this proposed tract is another private road serving five adjoining families. On the west of this road, immediately adjacent, is a 20-foot easement upon which are large olive trees. The roots of these trees support this narrow lane. These existing trees, dedicated many years ago by the Lutheran Synod, were never to be removed. This dedication has been respected down through the years.

ALL EASEMENTS have been disregarded in the proposed tract. Their plan is to remove the olive trees and cut back to the very edge of the existing road, which would undermine it completely.

Sports Columnist Assails Criticisms About Mexico

By Al Miyadi

Ray Cannon, Western Outdoor News columnist, who was once a movietown mogul during silent films and now public relations for Gulf of California cause, insists Mexican injustice is grossly exaggerated in Yankee press, that we shouldn't judge by Tijuana. . . Okay, but what do we do with TJ?

TRADEWINDS

Malibu and Davey's Locker (Newport) now on surface fishing sked, Santa Monica next in line, then Paradise Cove. Bryant Morris, of 22nd St., reports his Star Angler stripped of bunks, converted and ready for half-day action first weekend in March. Morris reinstating his off-and-on jackpot derby caper. Pierpoint Landing enterprising again with Blue Chip stamps (but I'm already hooked on orange stamps). Boating area in front of Pacific (Long Beach) may be closed for racing spectacles due to seven mph enforcement. Last event drew over 5,000 buffs despite fog, cold and small publicity. For goodness sakes, another boat show, this time at the Anaheim Shopping Center in Orange County.

Two Southland sportfishing operators seriously angling for half-hour TV spot for fishing show, must come up with minimum $20,000 for 13-week stint. W's in they'd spend that loot to improve customer facilities and service.

ON THE BEACH
San Diego ulcers kicking

on Grand View are vitally concerned with the drainage problem which would be involved. All waters from Toyon Canyon, upper Grand View Ave., and even the runoff from Adams all follow the natural terrain to the only culvert at the intersection of Grand View and Hermosa.

Even though the culvert appears wide at the opening, it tapers down to a small pipe within a few feet and could not possibly assume sufficient carry-off for all the debris and additional water which would be brought forth.

The enormous cutbacks, fills, and removal of all natural growth, as proposed in this subdivision, will result in a hazardous flood problem. Sierra Madre's past history has proved this to be too vital an issue to be ignored.

WE HAVE NO intention of standing in the way of homes that will utilize the natural terrain of the canyon and add to its beauty. Surely progress cannot mean the crushing of present property owners, endangering them and their families, and infringing on their rights as citizens of an already established community?

We are seeking protection not only for ourselves, but also for the unsuspecting prospective buyers of the tract homes not familiar with these conditions.

We invite all interested citizens to the next Planning Commission meeting at the City Hall on March 17. We also urge all to go to the City Hall and see for themselves the potential dangers as outlined on the proposed map.

The manner of handling this subdivision might well set a precedent for the remaining undivided tracts of land in our city!

Behind the Scenes in Business

By Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK.—There was a time, not too long ago, when the world of education and the world of business were oceans apart. But, luckily for both, the gap has steadily been getting narrower.

A most recent example of togetherness between industry and education can be found on New York's Long Island. Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute this month announced that it will establish the island's first graduate engineering school, and that the new facility, with attendant research laboratories, will be erected on 25 acres of land donated by Republic Aviation Corporation. As a matter of fact, the new school will be adjacent to Republic's own multi-million-dollar research and development center which should be in operation by April or May of this year.

According to Republic's president, Mundy L. Peale, the new center will be available to Polytechnic staff and students to augment their own research explorations. Peale says his firm views the transaction "not as a gift but as an investment." This is one way, he says, to assure a self-perpetuating supply of educated manpower.

THINGS TO COME.—For camera fans, there's a new "electric eye" (8 mm.) camera said to be the first designed to switch to slow motion and back to regular motion without missing a split-second of action.

To ease morning-after discomfort, one company is introducing a new medicine that depends largely on vitamins for its curative powers; it reportedly contains no drugs.

Bad news for crab grass: available for early spring use will be a non-poisonous chemical that prevents crab grass from germinating but does not harm regular grasses.

GRAIN STORAGE COSTS.—Over a period of many years, at the request of four successive national administrations, operators of commercial grain elevators have invested large sums in facilities for maintaining ever-larger surplus stockpiles. They say they have absorbed losses of millions of dollars annually for grain that has "gone out of condition," and that they often operate with a 75 per cent annual expectancy of filling a particular elevator, even though costs continue at near 100 per cent.

It is this background that causes many of them to object with special vigor to what they call "grossly misleading" evidence of surplus storage costs drawn from "five selected witnesses" by a Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, consistent critic of administration farm policies. An economics professor and four Iowa and Nebraska owners of elevators gave Symington's committee cost figures that were well below uniform rates paid by the government for warehousing its grain stocks.

But grain industry spokesmen, none of whom was asked to testify, claim the committee's investigators obtained their statistics from "isolated situations completely out of keeping with real average costs."

'Search for Talent' Gets Under Way

Pasadena Department of Recreation and the Pasadena Exchange Club will combine to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the annual "Search for Talent Program" by presenting two performances in March at Pasadena Civic Auditorium.

Semifinals will be seen on Sunday, March 6, and the finals on Sunday, March 27.

Designed to discover the most talented young entertainers in Pasadena School District, including Sierra Madre, the "Search" is open now for entries from youth in three divisions and five separate talent classes.

Children seven through 11 years of age are entered in the Junior Division, with separate competitions in piano, instrumental, dance, vocal and variety classes.

The same contests are conducted in the Intermediate Division for entrants aged 12 through 16 years, and in the Senior Division for competitors 17 through 21 years of age.

Auditions began Feb. 10. Entries may be made by contacting the department, 1501 E. Villa St., Sycamore 3-9177. There is no fee, but candidates must comply with rules and regulations available at the recreation office.

Ford Road Show Tours West Coast

Ford Motor Company's American road show, "Design for Suburban Living," will open its 1960 West Coast tour in Southern California next month. The show, which features the company's Ford, Mercury, Lincoln, Falcon and Comet in a setting that illustrates gracious living in the suburbs, will play at South Bay Center, Redondo Beach, March 1-11, and Lakewood Center near Long Beach, March 17-25.

The show is one of six units which will take to the highways this month to exhibit the company products at shopping centers across the nation.

From Feb. 17 to July 2, the six units of the show will be on exhibition at 59 shopping centers in 47 cities. During the past three years, nearly 9,000,000 persons have visited the touring Ford exhibits.

THE AMERICAN ROAD SHOW is a part of Ford's effort to put its products on display where millions of people do their shopping. "Design for Country Living" also features Ford's farm equipment amid demonstrations of modern and future farming techniques.

Second Cemetery Cleanup Is Scheduled for Sunday

The second Sierra Madre Cemetery cleanup conducted by the Harry L. Embree Post 3208, Veterans of the Foreign Wars, will be staged next Sunday, Feb. 28, it was decided at a recent committee meeting at the post rooms, 40 E.

Postcards have been sent to 50 veterans asking their help in the cleanup designed to place the cemetery in A-1 condition instead of its present dilapidated state.

Veterans, as well as other interested and willing citizens, bringing their tools, are urged to meet at the cemetery for the cleanup. The VFW Ladies Auxiliary will serve barbecued hamburgers for lunch.

WORKING from owners of plots in the cemetery, more than 100 letters have been dispatched asking for donations to help maintain the grounds. The letters include the following financial statement:

"The Sierra Madre Cemetery Committee books have been turned over to the Veterans of Foreign Wars by the City of Sierra Madre. A separate account has been established at the First Western Bank & Trust Company in Sierra Madre.

"To maintain and improve the grounds of this cemetery, money is needed. It has been suggested that a hedge be planted along the front, facing Sierra Madre Blvd. Ground covering and tree trimming is also essential. Water pipes need replacing.

"Your contributions are necessary to carry on this important project. Make checks payable to the Sierra Madre Cemetery Committee and mail to First Western Bank & Trust Company, 100 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre, in care of Dorothy Kennedy.

B. Grover Hudson, Chairman, Inez Allerdice, Secretary, Dorothy Kennedy, Treasurer, Dorothy Underwood, Publicity."

After disbursements of $415.21, the Cemetery Committee now has $333.37 in its treasury.

Felix Gibian Dies Tuesday

Following a long illness, Felix Herrmann Gibian, 77, of 69 W. Carter, died Tuesday at Sierra Madre Hospital.

A native of Chemnitz, Germany, he had been a Sierra Madre resident since 1948, and in the interim had taken part in many civic activities. He was a business consultant, member of Masonic Lodge 408 of Sierra Madre, the Congregational Church, active in Boy Scout and Red Cross work, member of the Coordinating Council, and had been a member of the Optimist Club in Minneapolis.

Surviving are his wife, Bernice K., a son, Francis N., of Corona Del Mar, another son, Karl Felix, and three grandchildren. Also a brother, Eric H. of San Diego; a stepsister, Miss Gertrude of Weisbaden, Germany.

Ripple Mortuary in charge.

18 Boys Win High Honors At La Salle

Eighteen boys from a total enrollment of 408 earned "A" averages during the semester ending Jan. 29, it is announced by La Salle's assistant principal, Brother Timothy Mel, FSC.

Five students garnered straight "A's" and received special awards for their outstanding achievement. They were senior students Ed Buchler, 547 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre, and Kenneth Kreeble, 5809 Encinita Ave., Temple City. Both seniors plan to major in the science fields when they enter college in the fall.

Robert Frank, 2151 Lorain Rd., San Marino, and Robert Little, 635 Carroll Way, Pasadena, represented the junior class and Thomas Guffrey, 1130 Leonard Ave., Pasadena, achieved honors for the freshman class.

THE "A" AVERAGE students were seniors Sid Danenhauer, Alan Ford and D. Jim Smith, all from Arcadia, Louis Smaldino of San Marina and Ron Bilecki of Rosemead. Junior classmen were Philip Beaven of San Marino, Philip Cannon of Arcadia and Fred Offenhaus-

The company was originally founded by R. A. Hawks, long-time Sierra Madre resident, who has retired and now resides in Hemet.

CITY COUNCIL last night paved the way for start of this improvement by approving the Surnillo lot split which will assist Sierra Engineering and nearby residents in gaining additional access to Monticeto Ave.

ser of Altadena. Robert Konrad from Eagle Rock was the only sophomore "A" student and Larry Byrd of Monrovia, David Hugo of Alhambra, Richard Steel of Sierra Madre and Ed King of Arcadia made up the frosh list.

Alan Ford and D. James Smith also received certificates from the National Merit Scholarship Foundation indicating that they had reached the finalist stage. Ford is planning a career in mathematics and engineering. Smith will either study law or science.

7—Lots plotted on easements that belong to adjacent property owners.

8—No knowledge of the subdivider as to legal responsibility.

9—Size of lots not in conformance with other lots in the immediate area as to size and improvements.

THE NEXT meeting of the Planning Commission is expected to produce an even larger crowd of Toyon Rd. opponents of the proposed subdividing, armed with more reasons why the request of the subdividers should be rejected.

THE MAIN channel of the Rancho Rd. and E. Grand View storm channel construction, part of the 1958 county bond issue, is now approximately 50 per cent complete, Council was advised.

At the same time, City Administrator Larry Bevington reported that the Griffin Co. has the S. Baldwin Ave. improvement well under way, with the cutting down of 26 old pepper trees the initial step, thus permitting installation of sewers and curbs. New trees are to be planted in the same vicinity.

Site preparation for the new high level reservoir was reported 95 per cent complete. Steel reservoir tank construction is approximately half completed.

The Red Cross was granted

ed permission to erect a thermometer in Kersting Triangle to show the success of their heart fund drive. Likewise, Friends of the Library were authorized to erect a sign near the Methodist Church to assist in its annual book sale for the benefit of the library.

LICENSING of a carnival to be staged by the Lions Club during Pioneer Days in May on the plot adjacent to the Woman's Clubhouse brought up the question of whether the carnival company should be compelled to pay the license fee of $50 a day as provided by city ordinance. The club had asked a fee exempt license.

Proceeds which revert to the club itself are used for benevolent purposes. The request was approved but with the condition that the Lions should provide Council a financial review of the contract with the carnival company.

The Civic Club received permission to repair the ceiling of the Toy Loan building in City Park.

HASTINGS RANCH NEWS

HASTINGS RANCH Dance Club members applauded their new 1960 steering committee at their annual dinner dance Saturday night at Eaton's Santa Anita Restaurant. From left, Jack Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Don Schluter, Mrs. Willis and Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Boden. Not shown are committee members Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Howell, who arrived later in the evening from a holiday in New York.

Once more the Governor has given Caryl Chessman a last-ditch reprieve. Somehow this case has gotten quite out of hand and no longer is Chessman on trial. The whole United States is before a world jury in the handling of this matter. Sob sisters cry and wail with the "sob brothers" that Chessman's life should be spared as he took no life in his crimes.

I wonder if the mother of the little girl who will spend her life in an institution feels that her child is really living. I find it a little hard to swallow that a man would withhold information that would lead the law to the REAL "red light bandit" when his very life depends on it. Yet, he keeps insisting he will give the information posthumously.

What mockery he makes of the law and yet God-loving people have championed his cause with no thought of what might happen if he is exonerated, as he wishes. Would they want their daughters in the company of such a man?

If as much energy and money were expended to remove the sources and breeding grounds for this type of criminal, perhaps cases such as this one would never reach our courts.

Whether or not he should pay with his life is not for me to decide, but I'm sure in my own heart that he will never be executed in this state.

THE "PAPER BAGGERS" met in the Barthe home of Mrs. Art Bready, and I might add that the amusement of the day was their new Boston bull terrier puppy, "Happy." In a loose moment Mrs. B. promised her son, John, a dog, and guess whose dog it turned out to be? The guests were Mesdames John Griffith, Prentiss Hale, Ward Watson, Ed Morgan, Tremore Garstone, Allan MacCauley, Jeff Lunge and Thomas Hammond.

DR. AND MRS. Clete Dorsey entertained a group last Saturday evening at a dinner party. The guests were Drs. and Mesdames Howard Owen, Robert Mueller, John Johnson, Henry McDonald, Millard McLain, Cortland Blake and Robert Christinson.

MR. AND MRS. Keirn Zebb of Old House Rd. recently entertained to Death Valley with their children to take in a bit of our Western historical sights.

THE R. W. STINEBAUGHS of Old House Rd. had a reunion of former teachers from the Frank Wright School in El Monte. After dinner the guests all enjoyed travelogs and slides presented by some of the guests. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fuller Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Van Ferry, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Switzer, Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Wahlquist and Mrs. Bessie Davis.

MR. AND MRS. Rog G. Johnson of Villa Mesa bid farewell to their houseguest recently. She was Ann Berg who has just recently returned to this country after serving three terms as a missionary in the Belgian Congo. During her three-week stay she was entertained by several of the Johnsons' friends. Mrs. Warren Thompson had a luncheon for her and Mrs. Calvin Anderson entertained her for the day. Miss Berg lived with Mrs. Johnson in the 40's and became as dear as a sister to her. It was indeed a sad parting.

Incidentally, the Johnsons' son, Bob, has been elected assemblies commissioner at Marshall and he is also on the "B" track team.

REV AND MRS. A. R. Gesswein of Sierra Madre Villa returned last week from a two-week trip to Seattle, Wash., where they attended a Combined Ministry Conference. They both participated in the conference. Mrs. Gesswein took part in open forums on the discussion of children through the teen age.

Today, Rev. Gesswein left on a trip that will take him to the Orient and Korea for 6½ weeks.

Blue Birds to Honor Dads At Golden Jubilee Dinner

It was 1910 when angle-length skirts and long bloomers were in vogue that the first Camp Fire Girls were organized. In celebration of the 50 years since that first group was established, Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds of the Sierra-Hastings district will honor their fathers at two dinners within the next few days.

The Blue Bird Golden Jubilee will be held at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the Don Benito cafeteria, with Art Mann as master of ceremonies. His daughter, Lisa, is a fourth grade Blue Bird.

The theme of the banquet will be February patriotic holidays, and tables will be decorated with red, white and blue, and reminders of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

Mothers will prepare a variety of dishes for the dinner, but they will stay home so that father and daughter may have a night out together. All the girls will participate as groups in the program.

The Flag Salute will be led by Joyful Blue Birds, third graders from Sierra Madre School, led by Mrs. Glen Appleby. S. C. Deal, district chairman, will give the welcome. Ruth Zebb will greet the fathers in a small talk, with reply by her father, Keirn Zebb, district camp chairman. All girls will repeat the Blue Bird Wish.

Songs will be sung by Gay Blue Birds, third graders from Don Benito, led by Mrs. John O'Donnell; Sunshine and Trail Blue Birds, third and fourth graders from Don Benito, led by Mrs. Alton Pryor and Mrs. Wilson Stewart, and High Flying Blue

Women's Council Plans Annual Fashion Tea

Proceeds from this event will be used to furnish the chapel of the new convent soon to be erected on the parish grounds at 2660 E. Orange Grove Ave., Pasadena.

Assisting Mrs. Edward Specht, general chairman, are Mrs. Charles Underwood and Mrs. Francis Mulqueen; decorations; Mrs. Howard R. Reuter; publicity; Mrs. Jack Gullitman and Mrs. Lester Kaerfer; hospitality; Mrs. Phyllis Otten and Mrs. Robert Natzel; invitations; Mrs. John Veale and Mrs. Ralph Paquette; reservations; Mrs. George Harris and Mrs. Lawrence Elfelt; ticket sales; Mrs. Timothy Donovan, programs; Mrs. Anthony Stabile, advertising; Mrs. Harold Sweet, door prize, and Mrs. Sylvan Shulman, redistribution of tickets.

Has the tax assessor been to your house? If not, he's on his way. We don't know if we're doing a favor mentioning it or not. Actually, it's better for us to be surprised, because then we don't have to worry about it.

Just looking at the tax assessor makes us feel guilty. Even if we haven't bought anything in three years, we are bound to have that guilty look when he asks if we have any new purchases to declare. We'll swallow nervously and be sorry that we've made the children keep their feet off that old chair because it suddenly looks too new. No doubt the assessor thinks we're lying.

The assessors are usually very nice and sometimes they look so hot and tired from walking in the sun, or so wet from being out in the weather, we'd like to offer them something to perk them up, but then we figure they'd think we were just being nice because we had something to hide.

When the assessor came to Rolie and Yolanda Whitely the other day, Yolanda thoughtfully said no, they hadn't made any purchases lately, whereupon 7-year-old David piped up with "Yes, we have."

Yolanda stared in slow-motion horror at him and said, "What, David?" or something like that.

He gave her a scathing look and supplied the missing information to the assessor, who sat with poised pencil, "Thumper Whitely, our rabbit. He's out in the back yard."

MEREDITH MORTON, Marge Jugan and Mary Alice Vaughn proved such sterling actresses in the Hastings Ranch Nursery School production of "Scattered Showers" that they are being urged to repeat their performance. "Scattered Showers" formed the program for a parents' dinner last week. The dinner was a Mexican affair, with a wealth of decoration carrying out the theme. Muriel DeWolfe was in charge of decorating for the event, with assistance from Dottie Korgiebel and Shirley McClellan, and Mexican knick-knacks rounded up from half the members of the school.

NEWS HAS been filtering through about the Olympic Games from Duffy and Bob Jacobson who have had the good fortune to be able to attend all the competitions. Seems as though the reporters who are covering the games are suffering more than the paying customers. They're the only ones you hear complaints from. The "big snows" and chilly weather seem to be fitting in with what everyone buying a ticket expected to see. Maybe newsmen are wanting Palm Springs weather to accompany the winter sports.

THE LONG weekend just past afforded Ranch residents an opportunity "to get away from it all." The Vie Harris family was more than enthusiastic about the fun and snow at Big Bear Lake. Edna Meason proved to be braver than I'd ever be. She drove to Las Vegas all alone to meet Bob, who was coming in from the East. Judging from reports of the fun they had, it was well worth the effort.

SPEAKING OF Las Vegas, some of us might do well to take "instructions" from Barbara Clark. She and Don had a recent holiday there and were not only able to get

Las Companeras Will Meet Next Wednesday

Las Companeras will meet next Wednesday at Rancho Hillcrest for its regular monthly luncheon meeting, beginning at 11:30.

Folowing the business meeting, presided over by the president, Mrs. Harlan Dunn, the program chairman, Mrs. Forrest Paxson, will introduce Maris Fischer Wing, dramatic interpreter, who will present the Pulitzer Prize Award play, "Look Homeward Angel."

Mrs. Wing, who has many years of experience on stage and TV, will be of special interest, since she is the mother of one of the club's members, Mrs. Robert McKnight.

Many Trees Suggested For Lawns and Parkways

More often than not, the tree that goes in your parkway is not a tree of your choosing alone. City regulations often dictate that you consult your neighbors and that you all plant the same variety of tree or none at all.

Now, while free choice is well and good, such restrictions are not bad. Consider, if you would, what might happen if no regulations existed. You might plant a flowering plum or two in front of your house.

Your neighbor comes up with a fruitless mulberry, and down the street are two Lombardy poplars. Carry this to an extreme and you can see that some uniformity is needed.

How, then, to go about planting an unplanted street.

course, the showy flowering plums and cherries, where they are adapted.

When it comes to your own lawn, you do have something to say about what you plant in it—everything in fact. And here again the nearest C.A.N. member can set you up with a list of ideas.

The idea behind tree planting in a lawn is to exercise restraint. To remain at its best, the lawn should not have excessive shade or competition from outside tree roots. And then, you aren't planting this tree to hide your house, are you? Big front lawn trees are only for birds unless you really need the shade.

Trees that enhance a lawn rather than encroach upon it, are the lovely European white birch, silk tree, sweet gum, maidenhair tree, the graceful weeping willow.

Girl Scouts Sell Garden Tour Tickets

In Sierra Madre, Brownie Scouts are selling garden tour tickets as their older sister Scouts conduct the cookie sale.

While the cookie sale is a national Girl Scout fundraising project, the garden tours are a Pasadena Area Girl Scout Council approved local project.

Proceeds from the garden hours are used to purchase equipment for the established Girl Scout camps and to help provide service to troops and leaders that strengthen the Girl Scout program.

Each ticket is good for all three tours, which will include 15 gardens in the Pasadena area.

Tour 1 will take place on March 5 and 6 from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the San Rafael district. Tour 2, on March 26 and 27 will be in the Linda Vista-La Canada district.

Tour 3, which includes gardens in Arcadia, Sierra Madre, and the eastern section of Altadena, will take place on April 23 and 24. The gardens of Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Farman, 205 W. Orange Grove, Sierra Madre, will be opened for this tour. Camp Mariposa, site of Brownie Day Camp in Altadena, also will be included in Tour 3.

SIERRA MADRE Brownies will act as ushers at the Farman's garden. Tickets for garden tours may be obtained until March 14 from Mrs. Mrs. William Vensel, Sierra Madre Garden Tour Chairman, ELgin 5-1405, and also may be obtained at the door during the tours.

PLANS for a Sierra Madre Girl Scout Day on Saturday, March 12, were completed at the planning committee meeting Tuesday, Feb. 23, according to Mrs. Claude Brown, chairman.

Representatives from Brownie, Intermediate and Senior Troops form the committee, working with Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Milton Valois.

Hiestand Letter, Questionnaire, To Be Out Soon

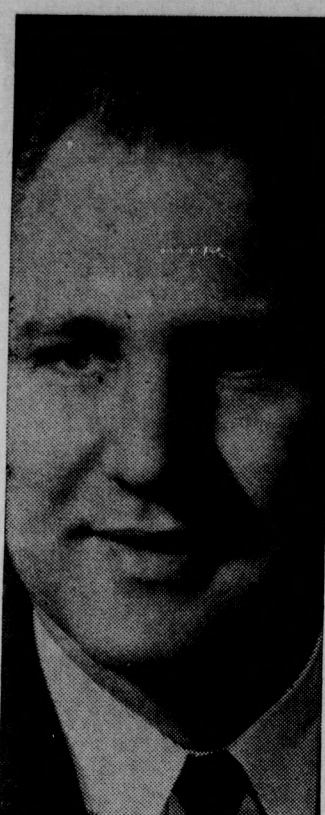

Rep. Edgar "Eck" Hiestand's News-Letter and Eighth Annual Questionnaire will be received shortly by his Sierra Madre constituents.

During each session of Congress, Rep. Hiestand reports, through his News-Letter, to his constituents to keep them informed of the actions of Congress and of his stand on issues under consideration.

His annual questionnaire is used to determine how his constituents feel about national affairs. The answers are used in guiding him in his voting, as he attempts to serve the people in his district as they want to be served.

Therefore, it is important that each citizen answer the questionnaire and make known how he wishes his congressman to act for him.

Peace will never come to the peace-maker who butts in anywhere.

Blair Painter

Sierra Madre Wins New Post

Formerly Southern California manager of applications for the Borg-Warner Corp., Blair Painter, of 1985 Killian Dr., Sierra Madre, has been appointed assistant sales manager of the Instruments Group, Special Products Division, Leach Corp., at Compton. He is married to the former Norma Jane Leach of Arcadia.

Historical Unit To Vote Soon on Revised Charter

The Sierra Madre Historical Society, at its next meeting, will vote on whether to accept a revised charter, written by Dr. Raymond Pease, and which was submitted to a meeting of the Board of Directors by Mrs. Gladys Carter, the society president.

Lulu Moore, former librarian, expressed the desire that all organized groups in Sierra Madre, of which there is something like 52, give the facts of their founding, and interesting news of their activity to the Sierra Madre Historical Society, so they may be filed as a permanent record and also for future reference.

One member suggested that the annual dues of $1 cover the period from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, instead of beginning with the spring meeting. Vigorously opposed, this was voted down.

Slimnastic Class Open To Membership

There are still a few openings in the "Slimnastics" class which meets each Tuesday morning, from 10 to 11, in the gym at Congregational Church.

Free child care is provided with the nominal registration fee for the course. Mrs. Evelyn Shuck of the YWCA is the instructor.

Registration is open to all. For further information call Mrs. Lela George at ELgin 5-0276.

AOPis Host District Meet March 4

Southern California Council of Alpha Omicron Pi, national collegiate social sorority, will be hostess March 4 and 5 to members of District XVI of AOPi. Convention activities will center at the active chapter houses at UCLA and USC campuses.

The highlight of the convention will be a banquet in the Music Room of the Biltmore Hotel March 5, when R. L. and J. Maxwell, national president of Phi Kappa Tau and chairman of National Interfraternity Conference, will be guest speaker.

At this time awards will be made to an outstanding alumna and a collegiate member of AOPi for service within the district.

District XVI includes alumnae and collegiate chapters in California, Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico.

Mrs. Joseph Bantle is in charge of transportation for the Pasadena area.

Junior League Welcomes New Members

Junior League of Pasadena, Inc., held its general meeting in the Ballroom at Huntington Sheraton Hotel with Mrs. Warner Marsden, president, presiding.

Guest speaker, Dr. Raymond Kendall, dean of the school of music at USC, spoke on "Teaching Children to Enjoy Music." There was a "sneak" preview of the children's opera, "Noah's Flood," written by Benjamin Britten and produced and presented by the Junior League Arts Committee.

Mrs. Howard Devol, transfer chairman, introduced the transfer members who had completed their training course and were eligible as active members. These members included Mmes. H. Whittemore Adams, Lucius A. Burwell, Jefferson Currier, H. Craig Hill, Willard P. Hovey Jr., Frederick J. Howden Jr., James Lang, James R. MRS. JAMES G. (Marla) MITCHELL of 179 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., shown at right, enacts a scheming neighbor and daughter-in-law in "Apple of His Eye," a romantic comedy which is playing each Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at 8:30 o'clock in Town Hall Theatre's center stage at Green and Hudson, Pasadena.

Marla Mitchell, S. M. Girl, In Town Hall Theater Show

By Edward Voorhees

Town Hall Theater in Pasadena is currently regaling its public with "Apple of His Eye," a rural love story by Nicholson and Robinson.

Its central plot, concerning the sudden onset of romantic love in Sam Stover, vigorous and prosperous widower "over 50," for modest Lily Tobin, his "teenaged housekeeper pro-tem," has the audience on tenterhooks between laughter and tears by its episodes and apt lines.

Richard Banks points up, in Sam Stover's feeling for Lily, a manly strength whose gentleness at first deceives the plotters against Lily; it overcomes, finally, his own fear of looking ridiculous to his friends. Lorey Rossi plays Lily with a quiet magic that is thrilling to watch. Both are "naturals" in their parts.

THE DIFFICULT and antagonistic role of Nina Stover, Sam's hypocritical and scheming daughter-in-law, is made smoothly realistic by Marla Mitchell of Sierra Madre.

David Bushner is sharp in the role of Tude, Sam's hired man and adviser on tactics, Japan, en route.

Civic Club Will Hear Talk About Heart Troubles

Members of the Sierra Madre Civic Club will hear a report on recent developments in prevention and treatment of heart and circulatory disease at their Feb. 25 meeting at 8:15 p.m. at the Park House, Hermosa and Sierra Madre Blvd.

He will also explain the important role of the local heart association in combating the cardiovascular disease.

Join Forces For Camp-Out

Girl Scout Troop 12 at Don Benito School, under the leadership of Mrs. Dayton A. Suter and her assistant, Mrs. Louis Sparer, will join forces with Troop 18, under the leadership of Mrs. William C. Taylor, for an overnight camp-out at Monrovia Canyon Lodge Feb. 26-27.

The girls' activities will include hiking to a near-by waterfall, games and crafts. The troops will be accompanied by Mrs. Suter, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. C. Neal Rowley and junior advisors, Judy and Ann Friederici.

Rep. Hiestand Introduces Bill To End Unfair Lending

Representative Edgar W. Hiestand of the 21st Congressional District, has introduced legislation to end the lending of hundreds of millions of "borrowed dollars" to Rural Electric Cooperatives at one-half the interest rate paid for the money by the U.S. Treasury.

"The result of such lending schemes is to saddle the American citizen with more than $80 million of additional interest debt," Representative Hiestand asserted.

REA was established during the depression to make available Treasury credit for rural electrification, Representative Hiestand stressed.

"This goal has now been more than 96 per cent accomplished," he explained, "yet the wage earner continues to be burdened with subsidizing these cooperatives. More than one-half of the total power sales by the REA system now are made to rural, industrial, recreational and other non-farm customers."

"The non-farm users now comprise more than 80 per cent of the new customers being added. These cooperatives now accumulate many millions of dollars in undivided reserves each year, and paradoxically, are lending these millions back to the U.S. Treasury by buying Federal bonds at 4 per cent interest, twice the interest rate at which this money was borrowed by the Electric Cooperatives from the Treasury."

"MY BILL provides only that the cooperatives play fair with the American taxpayer—that they pay the same interest rate that the Treasury must pay to obtain the dollars that are loaned by the Treasury to the cooperatives."

"In addition," concludes Rep. Hiestand, "the measure provides that the cooperatives pay 1/5th of 1 per cent interest as a small part of the cost of administering these loans."

Don't offer the underdog sympathy—his immediate need is help.

Girl Scouts Complete Spring Plans

Mrs. Raymond E. Untereimer, active in local political circles, spoke before eighth grade Girl Scout Troop 323 at Marshall Junior High School recently on the responsibility of Girl Scouts acquainting themselves with local, state and Federal government. As a result, the girls will strive to complete their "My Government Badge."

The troop just completed an eight-week course in bowling under the direction of leaders Mrs. Victor Harris and Mrs. Walter Burke, which gave them their "Sports Badge." Some of the members have also finished a gems course, sponsored by Los Angeles County Medical Association.

Planned in April is a two-night camping trip to Camp Adventurer in Glendora. Other coming events will be participation in a Marshall Junior High Girl Scout Fashion Show and a beach trip in May.

Troop members participating are Pat Burke, Carol Cairncross, Patsy Carley, Candy Crawford, Lynda Farmer, Anne Harris, Susan Harris, Judy Hedrick, Andrea Judd, Jane Knight, Tony Loomis, Leslie McGiven, Maureen McKelvey, Cheryl McKibbin, Janet Osborn, Carol Ray, Barbara Seichert, Sandy and Sharon Seiler, Gale Tampico, Nancy Taylor, Anne Thackrey, Margaret Updike and Claudia Welsh.

Shippey Book Is Designated To Aid Blind

Lee Shippey, former and long-time Sierra Madre resident and author of "What Do You Think?" column on the Sierra Madre News editorial page, has received word from the Library of Congress that his latest book, "Luckiest Man Alive," has been ordered recorded as a "Talking Book" by its Division For The Blind.

"This does not mean anything financially, but the publisher and I are proud to give permission for such use of the book," comments Shippey, now a Del Mar resident. "It pleases me more than the money could," he adds, understandingly.

Republicans Red Cross Drive Begins To Meet

Sierra Madre Republicans, along with others from the 21st Congressional District, have been invited to attend a gathering next Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the Porter Hotel in San Fernando. Training in present activities for the 1960 campaign will be discussed.

Among the topics will be "Recruitment of Workers" and "Registration and Get-Out-the-Vote Activities." Howard Jarvis, president of the Los Angeles County Republican Assembly, will be the keynote.

The 21st Congressional District includes Sierra Madre, Monrovia, Arcadia, Altadena, La Canada, La Crescenta, Sunland-Tujunga, North San Fernando Valley, Burbank, North Hollywood and the Antelope Valley.

Sierra Madre's Red Cross Chapter 1960 fund campaign "Kickoff Meeting" is scheduled for Monday at 10 a.m. in the Park House. The sum to be raised is $7,427, somewhat lower than last year's $7,710.

Col. Charles E. Morrison, fund chairman, announces that an enthusiastic speaker from the San Francisco Red Cross office will address the workers. The latter are urged to attend, hear the address, receive their folders, literature and information, and partake of refreshments.

Area captains this year are Mrs. Lawrence Appleford, Mrs. Frank Barbour, Arthur Benedict, Mrs. Paul Burton, Mrs. Robert Dodge, Mrs. Elizabeth Flickwir, Mrs. J. W. Moore, Mrs. Charles E. Morrison, Mrs. P. J. Narcowich, Mrs. Dexter Paddock, Mrs.

Harold Pangborn, William Schwartz, and Mrs. Janet Wood.

The area captains met last Wednesday night at the home of Col. and Mrs. Morrison to discuss, over coffee, plans for the fund campaign. Some of the area captains still need more assistants for complete coverage of the city.
